Revised: Fall 2011 Spring 2012 Fall 2012 Fall 2013 Fall 2014 Fall 2015

HUM 201 Survey of Western Culture I

COURSE OUTLINE

Prerequisites: None

Course Description:

Studies thought, values, and arts of Western culture, integrating major developments in art, architecture, literature, music, and philosophy. Covers the following periods: Ancient and Classical, Early Christian and Byzantine, Medieval, and Early Renaissance.

Humanities is a look at history through the art works of each period. The studies include music, visual art, literature, philosophical writings, and religious writings. In this class, students are required to make analytical comparisons of issues in the writings, including the view of creation, the role of males and females, the role of deities, the view of the afterlife.

Semester Credits: 3 Lecture Hours: 3

HUM 201: Survey of Western Culture I

Course Outcomes:

At the completion of this course, the student should be able to:

- 1. Demonstrate an understanding of the historical events of each period.
- 2. Recognize some music, visual art, and written works from each period.
- 3. Demonstrate an understanding of how each period viewed the following issues: creation, role of deities, role of males and females, and the afterlife.
- 4. Demonstrate an understanding of what each culture valued.

HUM 201: Survey of Western Culture I

Required Materials:

- 1. Textbook
- 2. Internet access
- 3. Blackboard

Textbook:

The Humanistic Tradition: Prehistory to the Early Modern World Vol 1—7th edition by Gloria Fiero; McGraw Hill, ISBN# 978-1-259-36066-4.

Loose Leaf Version, McGraw-Hill – 7th edition by Gloria Fiero, ISBN# 978-1-259-67074-9.

The following supplementary materials are available: None.

HUM 201: Survey of Western Culture I

Topical Description:

Covers the following periods: Mesopotamian, Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Muslim, Early Christian, Late Middle Ages, Early Renaissance.

Includes:

- A look at the history through the music, visual art, literature, philosophical writings, and religious writings of the period.
- Analytical comparisons of issues in the writings from each period, including the view of creation, the role of males and females, the role of deities, the view of the afterlife.

