

Revised: Fall 2011
Fall 2012
Fall 2013
Fall 2014
Fall 2015
Fall 2016

REL 232

Religions of the World II

COURSE OUTLINE

Prerequisites: None

Course Description:

REL 232 studies religions of the world with attention to origin, history, and doctrine. The course emphasizes a variety of Western religions.

This course is an introduction to the fundamentals of Western religious traditions. Our study focuses on Native American Religions, African Religions and the three predominant monotheistic traditions - Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

- We examine the ancient roots and modern manifestations of each tradition and trace religious elements of the holy, myth/sacred story, sacred texts, ritual, symbol systems, organizational patterns, ethics, and sacred communities throughout the development of Native American Religions, African Religions, and the monotheistic traditions.
- We study the impact of modern scholarship on the scriptures, stories, and myths of Native American Religions, African Religions, Christianity, Judaism, and Islam.
- Additionally, the course explores issues of social and cultural diversity, and religious pluralism in the United States by examining Native American, African, Christian, Jewish, and Muslim identity and diversity.

VIRGINIA WESTERN COMMUNITY COLLEGE
PO Box 14007
Roanoke, VA 24038
(540)-857-7273

- We will identify and discuss the tools of oppression that some religious groups have utilized in an effort to assert domination and control over other religious groups in the U.S.
- Our inquiry will lead us to question religious prejudices and stereotypes that have arisen in the specific context of America's religiously pluralistic society.

Semester Credits: 3 Lecture Hours: 3

REL 232: Religions of the World II

Course Outcomes:

By the close of the course, the student should:

1. possess an understanding of the basic origins, history, and doctrines of Native American religions, African religions, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.
2. be able to discuss the significant differences and similarities between these traditions.
3. possess a respect for the diversity of religious expression in our country and in the world.

VIRGINIA WESTERN COMMUNITY COLLEGE
PO Box 14007
Roanoke, VA 24038
(540)-857-7273

REL 232: Religions of the World II

Required Materials:

1. Textbooks
2. Internet access
3. Blackboard

Textbooks:

1. Malloy, Michael, Experiencing the World's Religions: Tradition, Challenge, and Change, 6th Edition. ISBN # 978-0-078-03827-3.
2. Miller, Bhagavad-Gita: Bantam Books. ISBN# 978-0-553-21365-2
3. Hanh, Peace Is Every Step: Bantam Books. ISBN# 978-0-553-35139-2

The following supplementary materials are available: None

REL 232: Religions of the World II

VIRGINIA WESTERN COMMUNITY COLLEGE
PO Box 14007
Roanoke, VA 24038
(540)-857-7273

Topical Description:

- African Religions
- Native American Religions
- Judaism
- Christianity
- Islam
- New Religious Movements

VIRGINIA WESTERN COMMUNITY COLLEGE
PO Box 14007
Roanoke, VA 24038
(540)-857-7273

