Topical Description: (Outline chapters and sections to be covered in the book – may include timeline)

- A. The Clinical Evaluation Tool will be used to document the student's progress in meeting the course objectives, to provide rationale for the assigned grade, and to identify student's strengths and areas needing improvement.
- B. Success in meeting the course objectives is determined by the student's performance in the clinical setting and completion of written assignments.
- C. The student must earn an average rating of "3" (C) or better for each of the course objectives and for written assignments over the total clinical grading period to pass the course. If the student fails to earn an average rating of "3" (C) or better for each of the course objectives and for written assignments, a final course grade of "F" will be assigned.
- D. If the student earns an average rating of "3" (C) or better for each of the course objectives and for written assignments, the final grade will be calculated based on an average of the weekly grades for all course objectives and written assignments.

A. Weekly written assignment includes completion of:

- Patient Database

B. In addition, the following documents are to be updated and submitted each week:

- Clinical Nursing Skills Checklist
- Record of Clinical Hours

C. Weekly clinical paperwork is to be submitted in a pocket folder on the day and time specified by the clinical instructor.

D. The instructor may refuse to accept any clinical paperwork that is submitted late, incomplete, or illegible. The student will be given a grade of "1" for the written assignment and be placed on a Clinical Remediation Plan until the paperwork is submitted to satisfaction.
